MEMORANDUM FOR: General Counsel
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: DCI Address to 10th Circuit Court Judges

1. I've taken a look at [redacted] draft outline for my talk to the 10th Circuit Court Judges in Denver on 1 August. I wonder if it doesn't spend too much time on the individual pieces of legislation we are now pursuing and not enough on the fundamental legal issues confronting us. Although some of the material is dated, I think the approach that OGC took in preparing the speech for my Boca Raton address to a group of Judges may be more in line with what these people would like.

2. I'd appreciate your giving me your advice on whether to stick with this legislative approach or to go back to giving some examples, [redacted] of how legal constraints affect our operations, etc.
